54 MOTOR YACHT

The World-Class Hatteras 54 Motor Yacht: WHERE INTERNATIONAL MEETS PRACTICAL.

One glimpse of the Hatteras 54 Motor Yacht and you know it already. Here is a fresh-looking Hatteras, a special-looking Hatteras. And, of course, you're right. In a few moments, we'll let you in on just how right you are.

Yet for all its international flair — the more contemporary lines — here is a yacht built solidly in the Hatteras tradition of quality craftsmanship.

The result? Another unique world-class motor yacht designed the classic Hatteras way: with form following function, to provide you with a magnificent new home on the water that's equally at home on any of the waters of the world.

The Hatteras 54 is, ultimately, a timely expression of the international leadership that Hatteras has long enjoyed as the premier builder of luxury yachts . . . yachts prized for their seaworthiness and luxury throughout the civilized world.

And the closer you look, the more evident this will become.

Let's begin with the crisp, clean exterior profile. The sweeping — almost rakish — design was created expressly for Hatteras by celebrated naval architect Jack Hargrave. The all-fiberglass hull, beautifully quiet-riding, utilizes a 17' 6" beam, to handle better and provide the spaciousness you want in a yacht of this class. The combination of cored hull sides and superstructure and a newly designed stringer system has been carefully engineered for an excellent strength-to-weight ratio.

Now it's time to step aboard.

Even the large aft deck gives you the feeling of what comfort and livability mean to Hatteras.

It's a semi-enclosed area that's ideal for entertaining, readily accommodating to a variety of seating arrangements and protected by wing doors and clear side shields. A clear glass aft bulkhead separating the aft deck from the salon further enhances the feeling of spaciousness, and affords what we consider the perfect balance of interior/exterior use of space.

How big is the salon? To Hatteras, there's only one answer: as big as it should be for the way a Hatteras owner is going to live. The salon, deckhouse, and aft deck area combine for an almost-overwhelming 357 square feet!

Large, tinted windows offer an excellent view, but the look inside the salon is even more pleasing. It's fresh and light, contemporary in the best sense of the word. And throughout, Hatteras-quality refinements including natural wood accents, molded and rounded corners on the bulkheads, and leather textured and simulated hard wood durable high-pressure laminate.

Of course, this is a Hatteras, and the deckhouse of this home away from home provides built-in room for your television, stereo and VCR equipment concealed behind tambour doors. Located to starboard is a convenient wet bar with ice-maker and storage space. And to provide all-season comfort, air-conditioning or heating is quietly ducted through the overhead . . . to quietly and unobtrusively maintain the pleasing climate you enjoy.

For a world class motor yacht, a world class Salon. It's fresh, light and very, very large. In this view looking through to the aft deck, you'll immediately notice the blend of the contemporary with the traditional Hatteras refinements.

Because you wouldn't want to own a yacht like this without also having the opportunity to take command, the lower station is the ideal design for you. A comfortable riding seat with a footrest accommodates two people. The contemporary control console features a new complement of gauges and instrumentation, including standard Hynautic clutch and throttle controls. With the room you want for chart work, and an overhead electronics console, you're in control of the Hatteras 54 Motor Yacht, and you can feel it!

You won't be able to resist enjoying the flying bridge, and we couldn't resist making it as enjoyable and practical as possible. It's standard, uniquely molded with the hardtop in a one-part design. The fiberglass radar arch is also standard and because (to repeat ourselves) Hatteras believes form should always follow function, it provides the maximum in floor space for you and your guests. The helmseat? Standard. The new molded fiberglass U-shaped seating? Standard. And everything works together simply, cleanly, beautifully.

By now, no doubt, you're getting hungry for more. Below, the galley and dinette offer a most hospitable invitation for extended cruising. You'll discover new floor coverings, almond-colored cabinetry (fresh and warm high-pressure laminate), good overhead lighting, and large windows . . . and the kind of storage you wouldn't want to be without. What's more, the 240-volt stove-top oven and dishwasher combination and the microwave are standard.

There are three staterooms in the Hatteras 54 Motor Yacht, and each has been planned as if you did it in your dreams.

The master stateroom features a walk-around, queen-size bed. Twin nightstands, a chest-on-chest storage area, and a large cedar-lined closet anticipate your desire to never go home again. And the master head, to port, uses Hatteras-quality color-core laminates and newly styled mirrors. (By the way, each head has air conditioning ducted in, directly.)

One guest stateroom is located to starboard, with twin bunks, a full-size cedar-lined hanging locker, and more storage than even a guest of yours would expect. Opposite is another private head, with a shower.

Even the bow stateroom should take a bow! Its upper and lower berths, dresser, and large hanging locker provide cozy-yet-comforting privacy for family or friends; it's well ventilated, well done. The third head, with stall shower, is right there, to starboard.

All in all, the Hatteras 54 Motor Yacht is the state-of-the-boatbuilders-art, the culmination of the latest techniques in design, construction, and on-board systems. The twin engine rooms house Detroit Diesel 8V-92TA's. And the electrical and mechanical systems are true to the Hatteras tradition of "do what needs to be done, and then do it even better."

Which all results in a motor yacht that is totally orchestrated to be world-class in the international tradition that has made the Hatteras name the ocean-going word for fabulous. In any language.

Your Hatteras dealer will be more than happy to arrange a private showing. Don't you owe it to yourself to own this commanding combination of the classic and the contemporary?

You'll never make a wiser investment in pure cruising pleasure.

The Aft Deck area (just beyond the clear aft bulkhead) enhances that spacious feeling you get throughout. Semi-enclosed, it makes entertaining especially enjoyable even for the host.

Looking toward the lower station with its commanding instrumentation, you can feel the freedom already! Note the entertainment center and wet bar. It's the way to leave home without leaving any of the comforts.

Because this is truly a live-aboard yacht, the key to everything is livability. The Dinette area, with good lighting and plenty of room, is infinitely more than a fast-food station.

You won't know which part of the Galley to appreciate first. New almond-colored cabinetry, new floor coverings, loads of storage. The stove-top oven and dishwasher combination, and microwave are standard.

The Master Stateroom rewards you masterfully, as your private sanctuary at sea. The room you need for storage, a cedar-lined closet — the Hatteras craftsmanship (and thoughtfulness) abounds.

The floor plans help you envision what we mean when we say the design is the state of the boatbuilders' art.

Far Left

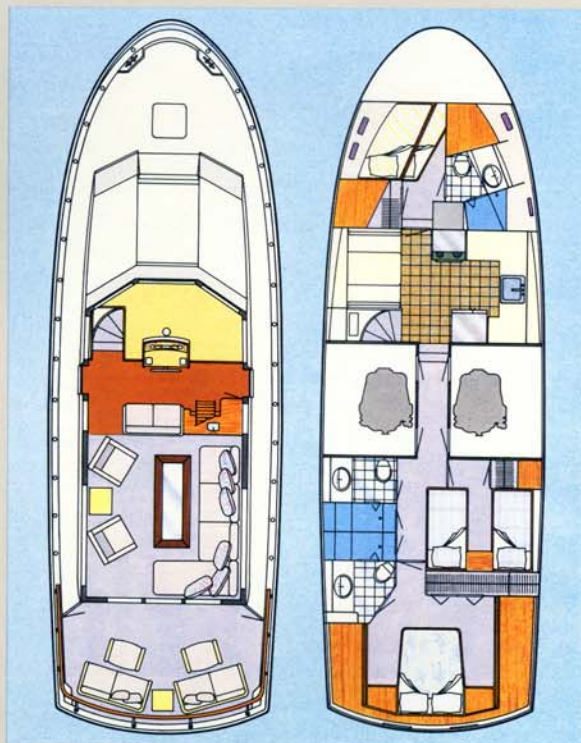

This inviting Guest Stateroom is everything your family or friends would expect aboard an international motor yacht from Hatteras. Twin bunks, full cedar-lined hanging locker, and the genuine feeling of hospitality at sea.

Center

The Bow Stateroom, with upper and lower berths and again lots of storage space, is so well done, so well ventilated, it just may be the coziest corner of the ocean. A head with stall shower makes the privacy complete.

Left

The Master Head with stall shower is as fresh as the rest of the Hatteras 54MY. Newly styled mirrors, contemporary laminates, and air conditioning are just three of the features you'll never want to be without ever again.
